YOUR WORKPLACE REIMAGINED

Work is evolving, so are workspaces. Workplace unifies and centralizes your team's workspace, simplifies file storage, and streamlines team communication.

Provide CONTEXT

In our world of information overload, context is productivity. Workplace brings in context from sales, marketing, or finance into your productivity apps, so you focus on the core issue—instead of pursuing multiple apps.

Ensure CONTINUITY

Work is remote. Work is local. Work is from home. Work may start on one device and hop onto another. Or skip across apps and jump across time. Your software needs to track and enable all this, so it doesn't consume your time.

Enable CONVENIENCE

Software is often complicated. Often bloated. You just want to get things done, but have to grapple with apps. Routines should be automated, clicks should be few. That's the role of AI and workflow. Get more done with less.

Foster COLLABORATION

Software productivity tools were built around individual users, primarily consumers. Later it was patched up and extended to business users. However business is collaborative and gets done in teams. Does your software know you are playing a team sport?
